Excerpts:
(Act 1) a1. Deserto sulla terra… a2. Non m'inganno…Di geloso amor sprezzato;
(Act 2) b. Stride la vampa [through "L'arcana parola ognor"]; c. Condotta ell'era in ceppi [through "…drizzarsi ancor!"]; d1. Non son tuo figlio?... d2. Mal reggendo... d3. L'usato messo… d4. Inoltra il piè...Perigliarti ancor languente; e. E deggio e posso crederlo?
(Act 3) f1. Quale d'armi fragor… f2. Di qual tetra luce... f3. Amor! sublime amore... f4. Ah sì, ben mio... f5. L'onda dei suoni mistici… f6. Manrico?... f7. Di quella pira;
(Act 4) g. Miserere...Ah! che la morte ognora; h1. Se m'ami ancor... h2. Sì, la stanchezza... h3. Ai nostri monti... h4. Che! non m'inganno!… h5. Ti scosta… h6. Prima che d'altri vivere [to end of opera].

Excerpts:
(Act 1) a1. Che fai?... a2. Dammi i colori!... a3. Recondita armonia… a4. Eccelenza, vado?... a5. Gente la dentro!... a6. Angelotti!... a7. Mario! Mario! Mario!... a8. Tanto! - Tornalo a dir!... a9. Dai boschi...Ah! M'avvinci…a10. Or lasciami... a11. Come mi guarda fiso!... a12. Qual'occhio al mondo...a13. Mia gelosa! - Sì, lo sento... a14. Dio! Quante peccata!... a15. È buona la mia Tosca;
(Act 2) b1. Dov'è Angelotti?... b2. Ed or fra noi parliam… b3. Floria! - Amore... b4.Vittoria!;
(Act 3) c1. Mario Cavaradossi?… c2. E lucevan le stelle... c3. Ah! Franchigia...Scarpia che cede?... c4. Il tuo sangue... c5. O dolci mani... c6. Senti, l'ora è vicina... c7. Amaro sol per te... c8. E non giungono... c9. Parlami ancora… c10. L'ora! – Son pronto [to end of opera].

Excerpts:
(Act 1) a. Popolo di Pekino!...Gira la cote; b1. O giovinotto!...Ch'io ti veda… b2. O divina bellezza!... b3. Figlio, che fai? c1. Non indugiare!... c2. Non piangere, Liù... c3. Noi morrem... c4. Ah! per la ultima volta! [to end of act];
(Act 2) d. Un giuramento atroce; e1. In questa Reggia...No! no! Gli enigmi... e2. Straniero, ascolta… e3. Gelo che ti dà foco… e4. Figlio del Cielo… e5. Tre enigmi;
(Act 3) f1. Nessun dorma!...f2. Tu che guardi le stelle... f3. Eccolo il nome!... f4. Chi pose tanta forza… f5. Strappatele il segreto!... f6. Tu che di gel...Ah! tu sei morta…f7. Liù! Liù! Sorgi! Sorgi!... f8. Principessa di morte!... f9. Che è mai di me… f10. Del primo pianto… f11. Questo, questo chiedevi… f12. Diecimila anni.

This recording, like #37.01 and #37.02, was made on gelatine or decelith discs by Hermann May, sound technician at the State Opera, with a microphone hanging over the stage. In 1933-1945, May transcribed many excerpts from live performances, originally with the permission of the opera director Clemens Krauss. The discs had a short playing time (about four minutes) and many of them were damaged by repeated playing. The preserved excerpts are therefore fragmentary and of varying technical quality. It is probable that the described excerpts and fragments are all that was preserved from these performances with Björling.

Fram för framgång, the only film in which JB had a leading part, was produced between August 3 and November 11, 1937, and released on February 7, 1938. It was shown in Denmark as Det syngende X, in Finland as Tie vottoon / Fram för framgång, in the US as Fram For Framgang / Head for Success (in New York, it was shown at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre and reviewed in The New York Times 28 Nov. 1938). Though the film was generally well received by the Swedish critics, and JB given credit also as an actor, Fram för framgång does not seem to have been a success with the public. Excerpts from this film (and from Resan till dej) were used for the Swedish Television program Jussi Björlings saga [The JB Saga], telecast in 1977, 1985, 1990 and 1994.

JB took part in the recording on the dates and at the places specified below. (The Kungsholmen studio was situated in central Stockholm, the other studios at "Filmstaden", a SF production center at Råsunda in the Stockholm suburb of Solna. The Stockholm Tivoli, Gröna Lund, is an amusement park and Torö is an island in the Stockholm archipelago.)
Aug. 14 & 16, Torö; Aug. 23, Kungsholmen studio; Aug. 26-27 & 29-30, Torö; Sep. 1-2, Kungsholmen studio; Sep. 5, Gröna Lund (scene with "Land, du välsignade"); Sep. 18, Kungsholmen studio (post-synchronization); Sep. 19 & 23, Gröna Lund; Sep. 26-27, Torö; Sep. 29, Small studio "Lasse's room"; Oct. 1, Gröna Lund; Oct. 2, 4 & 6, Small studio "Lasse's room" (scene with "Hej, dunkom" on the 4th); Oct. 7, Small studio "The radio studio" (scene with "La danza"); Oct. 12, Filmstaden & Stockholm (exterior scenes); Oct. 14, Filmstaden "Street"; Oct. 18, Small studio "The Broadcasting House"; Nov. 2, Small studio (interior scenes) & Filmstaden (exterior scenes); Nov. 5, Large studio (backprojection); Nov. 10, Large projection room (postsynchronization).

It is now impossible to tell exactly how, when and in which order the song recordings were done, as the songs (here listed in the order in which they occur in the film) are not specified on the archive sheets from which the above dates are taken. It seems certain that lip-synching was used for the recordings with orchestra, and it was probably also used for the unaccompanied song recordings. The orchestra took part in the sound recordings at Kungsholmen on Aug. 23 and Sep. 1 & 18, and in the Tivoli picture recording on Sep. 5. For Aug. 23, the archive cards indicate "music recording". For Sep. 1 & 18, they indicate "music and song" recordings; perhaps orchestral accompaniment may have been pre-recorded on the first date. There is no archive sheet for Sep. 2, but a special list of dates when JB was present states that he made song recordings on that day. It seems probable that all song recordings were made between Aug. 23 and Sep. 18, but the unaccompanied songs may also have been recorded later. Two persons who took part in the Fram för framgång production recall that JB also recorded "Till havs", but this recording was evidently not used. Eric Bengtson was the chief conductor of the film music and present at all recordings with orchestra, but Grevillius conducted the orchestra when it accompanied JB's singing. Newspaper reports about the Gröna Lunds Tivoli session on Sep. 5, which was open to the public and combined with a concert, mention that the SF orchestra was then enlarged with members of the Royal Orchestra.

Direction & script: Gunnar Skoglund. Main roles: JB (Tore Nilsson), Åke Ohberg (Lasse Berg), Aino Taube (Monika Malm), Anders Boman (Pelle Mårtensson), Anders Henrikson ("Rövar'n"), Erik "Bullen" Berglund (Torman, editor-in-chief), Bror Bügler (Vadman, editor), Gösta Gustafson (Hallberg, photographer), Sven Björklund (A Pilot), Harry Roeck Hansen (Director of the Broadcasting Company), Gösta Cederlund (The Theatre Manager), Hugo Björne (The Police Commissioner).

Story: The author Lasse Berg receives a letter confirming that his play "The Fire" has been accepted by the National Theatre. He rushes out overjoyed. Outside the Broadcasting House, Berg runs into the singer Tore Nilsson. Nilsson is depressed; he has just for the seventh time in vain offered his services to the Radio. Berg encourages him and persuades him to go back in and call on the Director of the company. "Head for Success!" After having forced himself into a radio studio, where the Director is presenting the educational programs of the season to schoolchildren, Nilsson demonstrates his talents by singing "La danza" on the air and disappears, chased by the police.
Lasse Berg visits the National Theatre. He interrupts a rehearsal when he finds that his manuscript has been revised and finally withdraws his play in protest. This annoys the young actress Monika Malm who had been given the main role. She goes to see Berg at his home, where, also, Tore Nilsson has taken his refuge. Noting that none of the gentlemen can pay for the food which is delivered for dinner, she saves the situation and joins them at the table where Nilsson sings "Hej, dunkom".
The newspapers now write about two sensations: "The Singing X" who mysteriously appeared on the radio with a sensational voice and the young author who dared to withdraw his play from the National Theatre. The journalist Vadman, who is sent by Morgonbladet [The Morning News] to Berg's home for an interview, is delighted to also find "The Singing X" there. The newspaper arranges a hiding-place for him on an island in the Stockholm archipelago. On his way in a motor-boat, Nilsson sings "Bachanal".

At the Broadcasting Company, Pelle Mårtensson decides to try to find "The Singing X", whose talent he has recognized, in spite of the fact that the Director is negative to the mysterious singer. Monika Malm also offers to help when Mårtensson happens to meet her at the Broadcasting House. She has succeeded in persuading the Director to accept "The Fire" for the Radio Theatre. Berg, who is unaware of this, has changed his attitude towards the National Theatre in order to save the main role for Malm with whom he has fallen in love. The theatre manager takes the play back, but in the discussion that follows it emerges that he wants to replace Malm.
Morgonbladet decides to exploit the story about "The Singing X" in a series of issues and finally to arrange his public debut at a Gröna Lund charity show. In the archipelago, the lonely Tore Nilsson happens to meet "Rövar'n" [The Robber] and is taken by him on an adventurous trip in a sailing-boat, where Nilsson sings "Di' tu se fedele". Malm and Mårtensson go to the archipelago in order to find Nilsson and engage him for a radio performance. Berg arrives in the Morgonbladet aeroplane, intending to take Nilsson back to Stockholm and the Gröna Lund show. He finds Malm and Mårtensson alone in the house and gets jealous. Back in Stockholm, Berg comes in an embarrassing situation when the National Theatre learns that "The Fire" has been announced as a radio play. Berg is thrown out of the theatre, but when the Director of the Broadcasting Company tells him about Malm's action for him, Berg understands that she loves him.
Mårtensson and Malm in their motor-boat succeed in finding Tore Nilsson and "Rövar'n" who have run aground. When they are returning with Nilsson, the Morgonbladet aeroplane appears with Berg onboard and Nilsson is flown back to Stockholm while Berg and Malm are happily reunited in the boat. Every measure is taken by Morgonbladet to boost the Gröna Lund show. On the evening before the show, Tore Nilsson is greeted at a dinner as a future great singer. The police suddenly intervene and declare that they have to arrest him for the incident at the Broadcasting House. However, the wrong person is taken and when Nilsson arrives at Gröna Lund, he is lifted to the top of a pylon from which he can sing "Land, du välsignade" in safety. The crowd gives him an enthusiastic ovation and cries for the name of "The Singing X" who has made his breakthrough. Introduced to the audience by Mårtensson, the couple who helped Tore Nilsson, Lasse Berg and Monika Malm, are also lifted to the top of the pylon, where they unite in a kiss.

When these two items were first issued, on the LP Golden Age of Opera EJS 405, they were inserted between #37.07 b and c, without a specific date. Because of this, and since JB's solos on the Dec. 19 program published in newspapers were different, 37.09 a & b were first assumed (also in JBP 1 & 2) to come from the Nov. 28 General Motors program. According to the Dec. 19 newspaper program, JB would sing "Cielo e mar" and "A Traditional Swedish Christmas Carol" ("Land, du välsignade" has nothing to do with Christmas). Together with the soprano Helen Jepson and a chorus, he would also sing "The Story of the Nativity" (no composer given). However, a notice in the Swedish-American newspaper Vestkusten shows that he actually sang 37.09 a & b on Dec. 19, and also took part in "The Story of the Nativity," but no recording of that item is known.

This concert was the last part in a series for the company's foreign exchange program with the US, which was produced from April till July. The programs, all 15 minutes long and most of them containing music, were recorded on discs and sent to America to be broadcast once a week by about twenty radio stations in areas with a large Swedish population. This program included a greeting from Sweden to America by Sven Wilson, head of Swedish Radio's Foreign Division, who was in charge of the production.

It is not known when the concert was broadcast in America, but not earlier than late July. An unspecified excerpt was presented to Swedish radio listeners on July 27. The original discs were found in the Swedish Radio archive as late as in the 1980s (L-B 4708:4; the other archive tape is a copy of a US transcription disc).

This duet was earlier assumed to be taken from the Bohème performance on September 25 (#49.06), where the soloists and the conductor took part, but gives the impression of a studio recording. It was done for the Salvation Army's annual Christmas record and most likely in close connection with #49.06, e.g. at a rehearsal.

This recording is the only one known with JB from Skansen and was probably done because Prime Minister Tage Erlander gave a speech on the same occasion (TCO = The Central Organization of Salaried Employees in Sweden). The complete transcription was discovered in the 1990s. The information in JBP 1 & 2 is incomplete because only a partial transcription of the recital was known when those editions were published.

The dubbing was done on September 29 at the Swedish Radio's Karlaplan studio. The movie was directed by Stig Olin, produced by Terraproduktion between September 23 and November 19 and released December 19. In the film, JB plays himself and appears in a scene as a guest on a fictitious radio program called Familjelördag [Family Saturday], where he is received by the host of the program, Sigge Fürst (a well-known entertainer who also plays himself).

The film was later renamed En gång jag seglar i hamn [Once I Will Sail into the Harbour]. It was also distributed in Denmark as Drømmepigen, in Norway as Resan til dej, in Finland as Matka luoksesi and in Germany as Reise zu Dir. It was shown on Swedish Television for the first time in 1963.

The first part of the concert (through "Ingemisco") was broadcast live by the Norwegian Radio. The whole concert was recorded by James Fassett, CBS, and broadcast by WCBS, New York, on “World Music Festival” July 18, 1954. That broadcast did not include "En drøm", which is missing on all known copies of this recording, but reviews confirm that it was performed at the concert.

1956, July 22. Gävle (Gästrikland, Sweden), Furuviksparken [Furuvik Park].
Open-air recital (fragment recorded). With Harry Ebert, piano.
Color film recording by AB Kinocentralen (Gävle City Archive).

Ich hab' kein Geld, bin vogelfrei [S: Nu är jag pank och fågelfri] (Millöcker: Der Bettelstudent): verse 2

The sequence must have been taken at the first of two recitals which JB gave at Furuvik on July 22 (at 4 p.m.). It was shot at rather long range, and the synchronization is bad (sound and picture may even have been taken from different songs on the same occasion). The recording was done for a short film, celebrating the 20th anniversary of the Furuvik Park in 1956. Two copies of this film were found in the Gävle archive and used for a television program in the 1980's. In that program, the second verse only was included (54 sec. song; 1 min. 20 sec. with applause and reception of flowers); it is uncertain if anything more exists.

The recording is complete from "Che più t'arresti" in Act 1. Thus, everything sung by Björling was preserved. The recording was made backstage (by a member of the chorus) for Margareta Bergström, who sang Azucena. In April 1986, highlights from the recording were presented for the first time by Stefan Johansson on a Swedish Radio program.

The program included the drawing of match pairings for the World Football Championship. After his performance, Björling was presented with the first series of tickets for the championship by the secretary general, Holger Bergérus. An AV recording from this program in the Sveriges Television archive (137/58U) contains the drawing ceremony only, not the artistic performances (which also included Kjerstin Dellert and Thomas Funck). The program, or parts of it, seems also to have been telecast in other countries and therefore, an AV recording of Björling's performance may possibly exist.

A fragment of the Carmen aria (c) in this recital was filmed for Swedish Radio's television program Vi går på Gröna Lund [We Visit Gröna Lund] (telecast: 1958, August 3), which is preserved in the Swedish Television archive. The aria fragment comprises 1 min. 13 sec. (29 sec. piano introduction + 44 sec. singing, ending with "…flétrie et sè…"). The Pars Media program combines the film with the audio recording.

In the program, the interview was presented as a telephone interview with JB at his summer home on Siarö in the Stockholm archipelago just before the fight. Therefore, it was described as such in JBP 1 & 2, but according to people who were present, the circumstances were "faked".

1959, October 16. Copenhagen Airport (Kastrup), restaurant.
Recorded with a television camera and telecast by Danish Broadcasting Corporation (DR).
(DR Archive)

The musicians met when JB was returning to Sweden after his Falkoner Centret concert the day before and Goodman was arriving for a concert at the same venue on the 17th. It was reported that JB postponed his departure so that they could have a conversation. During the recorded part, Goodman also took up and played his clarinet.

59.08 (5908)
1959, October 30. Stockholm, radio studio.
Interview [in Swedish; 16 min. 10 sec.] by Bo Teddy Ladberg (Swedish Radio Music Department).
First broadcast: November 1, during the first intermission of a live broadcast Manon Lescaut performance (#59.09) from the Royal Opera.
(SR archive: M 59/897:2)

Topics: JB's debut as the lamplighter in Manon Lescaut; John Forsell's significance for him; the Royal Opera in the thirties; the beginning of JB's American career and his tours in the US; mishaps during a Ballo in maschera performance in Philadelphia and Bohème performances in Stockholm; problems of singing in Italian in a Swedish ensemble; comparison of tenor roles in Puccini operas; memories of the soprano Nanny Larsén-Todsen.

Ladberg gave a detailed account of how this interview came about in Jussi Björling: En minnesbok, p. 125. According to that account, written in 1960, JB arrived at the studio at 5:25 p.m. on the day before the Manon Lescaut performance (thus on the 31st). However, the date October 30 is noted in the recording minutes and confirmed by the fact that Ladberg in the interview refers to it as having been recorded “a few days in advance" of the performance.

A sentence from the interview (in translation: "Yes, I am Jussi Björling from Stora Tuna, that's me") was included on Bluebell ABCD 092.

Two mono recordings were made for archive purposes from this performance, using different microphones. One, made by the Swedish Radio, is complete and was used for the Bluebell excerpts issue (from which most other issues of excerpts have presumably been copied). The other one was made by the Royal Opera and comprises seven excerpts. Five of them were issued on Caprice, the other two are "Vedete? Io son fedele" and "Affè, madamigella… Ah! Manon, mi tradisce".

"Donna non vidi mai" is missing on the Bluebell issue because the aria was damaged during recopying in the radio archive. The complete issue on Opera Depot is evidently taken from an off-the-air recording, and "Donna non vidi mai" has there been inserted from the complete RCA recording (209b2).

60.02 (6002)
1960, July 5. Falun (Dalarna, Sweden).
Interview [in English; 6 min.] by Anthony Baird for Radio Sweden (Swedish Radio Foreign Program).
(SR archive: UT 60/1174)

Topics: JB's reasons for singing at the US Independence Day celebration in Rättvik the day before; his connections with the US; his opinion of contemporary artists; his early training and career; modern opera and composers.

LP MDP MDP 035 Bjoerling ... Live!, Vol. 2 1981-02

In JBP 1 & 2, this interview was assumed to have been made in Rättvik, but a letter from Baird to Björling shows that it was made in nearby Falun on their way back to Stockholm.
